Hold firm possession; but after many bloody condicts and great sufferings, that are samiliar to your readers. Unionize to the possession and has maintained its ground. The city is now entirely fenced and walled in with long parapet works, having heavy gates for entrance. The city is very breken, and on cvery prominent bill top there is a strong, well built fort, with heavy guns, ready to meet the enemy with an entillading fire every way. Wee to rebels if they undertake to capture Knoxville, "the best fortified city in the Union."

Before the war it had 6 000 inhabitants. Refugees from without that have crowded in have probably kept good their number; but the city looks neglected, dilaphilated, warlike.

Four years ago East Tennessee had about 20,000 alayes. It has now struatly none. Much has been sail about the anti-diavery feeling of East Tennessee. Yet I am convinced by careful inquiry, that former anti-alayey feeling, if it did said, had well night disappeared are the rebellion commenced. Many readily went in with the rebels; many were barely held bey that neighboars and former of loos of property, while some had a little said-sely held bey that neighboars and formy by the old Urson. The following fact will show the tensecity with which many held on to the pocular neiticulion; A Union man, a Methodist preacher, had a reviral meeting, had a stareholder forward as a poorner. A well has been struck at Harlensburg which pumps a barrel of oil which pu evinced a pure moral conrage, an intellectual contempt for death. His face was gale, but not sorrowful, and frequent emiliar played across his lips as he listened to the resourag of the different specifications of which he mad been found guilty, and for which he was there to meet his testh.

Especially at the reading of that specification respecting the Lake Eric pirser, where he had placed the imnocent passengers of the captured steamer under durance by force of arms, he skimost suphed, as if the reading recalled some incident which had once particularly annead him. In all of this exclusioness, however, there was only contempt and hardihood—nothing like contrition for the crimes which he had attempted, and nothing like a conviction of the fanaticism or spirit of revenge which had impelied him.
At the conclusion of this correspon, the Deputy Marshal approached the prisoner, adjusted the rope, and asked him if he had anything to eay. The prisoner repised:
"Tes: I protest against the exacution of

We were reliably informed yeaterday that a big well was struck on Wednesday last on the Zauf Sandy. Its espacity is not yet accurately known, but it is estimated that it will yield at least one hundred barrels a day.
